

UNIVERSAL DESIGN & IT:

Ensuring that Websites and Other Information Technologies are Accessible to People with Disabilities

GET INFORMED ABOUT ...

- Information Technology (IT)- What it is, Barriers and Access Issues
- Assistive Technology (AT) vs. Accessible IT- How They are Different
- Web Accessibility Guidelines
- Examples of Accessible Websites and Some that "Need Improvement"
- Accessible Software, Multimedia
- The ADA and Sections 504 & 508- Legal Obligations for Accessible IT
- What's Happening in Rhode Island on Accessible IT
- Resources

Space is limited register NOW!

Co-sponsored by:

- New England ADA & Accessible IT Center
- Rhode Island Governor's Commission on Disabilities
- The Community College of Rhode Island (CCRI)
- The Center for Advanced Technology Careers

With Opening Remarks from the Secretary of State of Rhode Island, Matthew A. Brown and CCRI President, Thomas D. Sepe

DATE: Thursday, March 6, 2003

TIME: Noon to 4 pm

PLACE: CCRI Campus

Formal Dining Room
400 East Avenue
Warwick, Rhode Island 02886

COST: Free! Includes Lunch

REGISTRATION: Cheryl Francis, CCRI
(401) 825-1186
cfrancis@ccri.cc.ri.us

For information on the program:

Rachel Tanenhaus
New England ADA & Accessible IT Center
Rtanenhaus@adaptiveenvironments.org
800-949-4232 voice/tty